

UTTER HEARTLESSNESS.

In the local columns is published an article from the Call, which during the past few days has caused the greatest indignation in this city.

When an illusion to the matter appeared in the Examiner of Saturday, friends of the Coffins claimed that the matter was misrepresented. The article which appeared in the Call gives even fuller details and leaves no longer any room for doubt that an act of unparalleled heartlessness has been performed.

It is a matter of regret to the APPEAL that such a charge should be made against any citizen of Carson.

If Mr. Coffin does not at once provide the $15 a month, necessary for the proper maintenance of his mother-in-law in the Angew Asylum, the APPEAL will open a popular subscription and see that the money is raised by the citizens of Carson.

Wasted Powder.

The S. F. Argus of last Saturday charges the editor of the APPEAL with having plundered the residence of the late Judge Terry of Fresno, of all its valuables and calls upon the authorities to compel the writer to turn the effects over to the guardian of the estate. The editor of the APPEAL visited the house of Judge Terry with full authority to do so from the friends of the Judge and the legal guardian of Mrs. Terry.

Before the Argus article was in type the valuables found in the house were turned over to R. Porter Ashe, and were being appraised by regular appraisers appointed by Judge Levy. As the parties sent to take charge of Mrs. Terry's effects turned over to the court about five times as much as was supposed to be in the house, the necessity of objections from any quarter is not especially apparent.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

About every two days a new strike is made in Pinenut and the excitement increases. If that camp was in any other State in the Union it would contain a thousand miners at the present time. But the people who don't happen to have several claims apiece and an option on the townsite howl the camp down to all comers. The fact of the matter is that the entire district is full of rich claims and if Nevada people do not push it to the front it is time to import a more progressive population.

Eastern papers state that General Alger will have Nevada's delegation at Minneapolis. If an Alger sack has been opened up in this State, who in the dickens is the fellow that's running the thing?—Chloride Belt.

Alger needs no sack in this State. At the last National Convention he had five out of the six Nevada delegates, and no one will claim that they were men who could be influenced by sack talk. He will again have a walk over in Nevada, as he is a friend of silver and a thoroughly Western man.

Several leading papers in San Francisco are jumping on the Mission street site for the Postoffice, and loudly proclaiming that it is not worth over half a million. If this were in Chicago the papers in that lively city would never allude to the price except to say that it was dirt cheap. This is how the Chicago press keeps real estate up to the top notch in their town. These editors are rather more wise in their generation than they are in San Francisco.

In the Indian Queen-Poorman case recently tried in Hawthorne, a wonderful change in popular sentiment took place when it was learned that a Poorman victory meant the transfer of the property to a couple of Hawthorne attorneys. For this reason the verdict is hailed hereabouts with general satisfaction.—Chloride Belt.

The San Francisco Post is authority for the statement that Salisbury will now embrace Blaine's "modus vivendi." If Mrs. Salisbury catches him at it there is liable to be a big family row and we advise him to let this sort of thing alone.

The statement made by the Journal, that Newlands is out of the Congressional fight, is contradicted by the Enterprise. It says that Newlands is a candidate and in to stay.

A vote on the silver question is expected to take place in the House tomorrow.
